MESSRS. THACKER, VINING & Co. desire to draw especial attention to the above Series of Photographs, which has now been completed by the addition of some 200 Views taken by an Artist, who passed the Season of 1874-75 in India for that special purpose.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, 26TH MAY 1877.

THE tenor of telegraphic advices from London, since the Whitsuntide holidays, indicates a growing belief in commercial circles that the Turco-Russian war will be localised. Consols have recovered to 95 and French Rentes to 104. Wheat has undergone a rapid decline and Cotton shows increased strength. The effect of these advices, however, in no way tends to render business here more active. On the contrary, our Cotton season is too near the close to admit of higher prices in Liverpool inducing extended operations, while the exports of Seeds and Wheat, already greatly restricted by the obstruction in railway traffic, are further checked by the decline in prices. Shipments of course are going forward, but to a comparatively limited extent, and they are more against previous transactions than fresh business. For all practical purposes, in fact, the monsoon may be said to have commenced in everything except the rain, and the sooner we have that the better, as although it would terminate the small business now doing in Cotton, there is the possibility of it bringing more life into our import trade in which the depression of late has been very great.

At the weekly biddings for Council drafts on India in London on Wednesday, the usual sum of £265,000 was offered and allotted as follows :—£179,000 to Calcutta and £1,000 to Madras at an average of 1s. 8.33d. and £85,000 to Bombay at an average of 1s. 8¼d., tenders on Calcutta and Madras at the latter figure receiving in full both in bills and telegraphic transfers, while on Bombay the whole amount alloted was by transfer and tenders at 1s. 8¼d. received 90 per cent. These rates were fully as high as was generally expected on this side, the general opinion having been in favour of an average slightly under 1s. 8¼d., but in any case the result justifies the general anticipations which have prevailed here for some time past. The rapidity with which our export trade has been contracting latterly has made it very manifest that the demand for remittance to this side was bound to fall off at an early date, and only the temporary pressure for money in Calcutta has enabled the Government to obtain the comparatively high figures of the last few allotments. Even this influence, however, is now at end, and unless therefore Government should so manipulate the coming loans as to affect matters, we are fairly warranted in assuming that we have seen the commencement of a decline to monsoon rates.

Bar Silver in London has declined to 54d. per oz., at which it is equivalent to a fraction under 1s. 8¼d. per rupee.

MONEY.—Notwithstanding the fact of the last published statement of the Bank of Bombay showing a decrease in the Cash of 13 lacs, money is decidedly easy and becoming easier every day. No change has been made in the Bank's charges which still stand at 9 per cent on short dated Bank Bills and 12 per cent. on Mercantile Paper, but the Bank of Bengal reduced their rates 2 per cent. all round on the 24th instant, and as the stringency in Calcutta had previously been about the only strengthening influence here, we may safely count on lower rates being established at an early date. We are of course assuming that Government will adhere to the programme shadowed forth in the Financial Statement, as regards the proportion of Money to be borrowed here and in England. Any alteration in that respect might entirely change the aspect of the market at a moment's notice, but it is useless speculating on the point until something definite is known.

EXCHANGE.—Business for this Mail in sterling opened on Tuesday morning with a very quiet appearance, on the basis of 1s. 8¾d. for demand Bank Bills. During the day, however, Bank advices were received from Calcutta and a decline of ¼d. to 3-16d. was established. On Wednesday no alteration took place, but on Thursday the reduction of 2 per cent. in the Bank of Bengal's rates induced a further fall of 1-16d., a movement which was repeated again on Friday. Saturday saw the return of a slightly steadier feeling, and we now quote :—Bank Bills on demand, 1s. 8 9-16 to 8¾ ; 6 months' sight, 1s. 8 15-16d. ; Credits 3 months' sight, 1s. 8 15-16d. ; 6 months, 1s. 9¼d. ; Documents 3 months' sight, 1s. 9¼ ; 6 months, 1s. 9 3-16d. per rupee.

The transactions for the Mail have been very limited, when we consider the time of year. The decline in rates has not apparently had the effect of bringing out any fresh bills, and on the other the demand for remittance continues small. For future delivery we have not heard of any sellers of Private Paper, but some little business has been done in Bank Bills, 1s. 8¾d. for demand having been done so far forward as September. On Calcutta there has been very little doing this week. Money having become easier there, the demand for sight bills has been small, and we still quote ¼ per cent. premium. Of 60 days' sight there are buyers but no sellers at one per cent. discount.

On China there is nothing whatever doing, and the quotation is quite nominal at Rs. 222 per 100 dollars.

From Hong Kong the latest quotation for 6 months' sight Bank Bills on London is 4s. 0¾d. per dollar, and, from Shanghai 5s. 5¼d. per tael.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—More hopeful accounts from home, and easier Money here and in Calcutta, have combined to render our market decidedly stronger during the current week. No large transactions have taken place, buyers being mostly for comparatively small amounts, but as the monsoon approaches and Money becomes more difficult to employ profitably we may look for larger investments being made. We now quote :—Fours, Rs. 97¼ to Rs. 98 ; Fours-and-a-half Rs. 98 ; Five-and-a-half, Rs. 102½ to Rs. 103.

SHARES.—The market has been active throughout the week, and prices as a general rule are higher all round. Bank of Bombays have advanced ¼ per cent., and now stand at 40 per cent. premium. Agras are Rs. 3, Nationals Rs. 2 per share lower. In Land Companies, Colabas have undergone an advance of Rs. 10, Mazagons are Rs. 5 lower, Freres and Fort Canning being unchanged. Press Companies are somewhat irregular. Albert Co. of Kurrachee and Colaba Press are Rs. 20 and Bombay Rs. 10 per share higher, while there is a decline of Rs. 20 in Sassoon, Rs. 25 in Scinde and Punjab, and Rs. 5 per share in Broach Cotton Co. Spinning and Weaving Companies are in strong demand, and with few exceptions prices are all higher. We note a rise of Rs. 70 in Prince of Wales, Rs. 50 in Soonderdas, Rs. 50 in Khandesh, Rs. 25 in Great Eastern and Madras United, Rs. 20 in National and Sassoon, Rs. 15 in Scinde and Hindustan, Manockjee Petit, and Nerid, Rs. 10 in Colabas, and Rs. 5 per share in Bombay United, Alexandre, Broach Mills, and Morarjee Gocouldas. Amongst Miscellaneous Companies we notice an improvement of Rs. 35 in Bombay Burmah Trading Co., and Rs. 20 in the Landing and Shipping Co. of Kurrachee. The decline in Exchange has induced an advance of Rs. 2 in G. I. P. Railway Stock, £20 being now quoted at Rs. 272.

IMPORTS.

PIECE GOODS have undergone no improvement this week ; on the contrary, the demand, if possible, has been more limited than ever, and the transactions are only estimated at about 200 packages from first hands and 900 from the bazaar. Prices in the majority of instances are nominally unaltered, although a concession of one to two annas per piece would generally be necessary to effect clearances, and even then no very large lines could be done. About this time there is mostly some additional buying in anticipation of the monsoon, but the state of affairs up-country at present is so unfavourable that dealers hesitate to lay in supplies until they know the future promise. Should they hold out hopes of good harvests, we might look for the market taking a turn for the better, until then, however, we can scarcely hope for any material improvement. In the meantime stocks here are rapidly accumulating, and it will take some time of limited shipments from home to place supply and demand on something like an equal footing.

TWIST.—The business this week has been quite unimportant, and there is no quotable change in prices. Stocks are comparatively moderate, otherwise we should see even greater depression than there is. Local makes are almost as dull as English, the export demand at the moment being particularly slow.

METALS.—Copper.—No business of any importance has been done, and rates are unaltered. Yellow Metal is in the same position, quiet and unchanged. Iron.—Supplies are quite in excess of present wants and the market is dull with a downward tendency. A decline of As. 8 to Re. 1 per candy has taken place in Bars and Nail Rods, but Sheets and Hoops are unaltered.

COAL.—A slightly steadier feeling has been apparent again at the close, but otherwise the course of the market has been still downward, with considerable pressure to sell and few buyers. The only transactions reported to arrive are :—A cargo of Ryhope West Hartley at Rs. 17¼, and a part cargo of Laird's at Rs. 16½ per ton alongside, via Cape. We quote Davison's West Hartley Rs. 19, Laird's Welsh Hartley Rs. 18½ to Rs. 17, Watson's Hartley Rs. 17, Cardiff Rs. 17½ per ton alongside to arrive via Cape.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—Since the Whitsuntide holidays the Liverpool advices have been considerably firmer in tone, with in most instances an advance of 1-16d. per lb., and we have accordingly had very strong markets here with an advance of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3, and in the higher grades of Dholleras of Rs. 6 per candy. As prices, however, are considerably above Liverpool currencies, the purchases for export have not been large, and the total sales to-day's date in all, made up of about 4,000 bales Dholleras, 2,500 bales Omrawuttee and 1,500 bales Veravul.

The Clearances for sea during the week have been 29,610 bales, making a total of 625,562 bales since first January, against 530,589 bales for the corresponding period last year. We are thus up to date in round numbers 85,000 bales ahead of last season, but from the rate at which exports are now going forward, it seems probable that this excess will be more than lost by the end of the six months, as the sailings for June do not look like being over 80,000 bales, while last year they were 188,000.

The Receipts from up-country are as follows :—

	1877.	1876.	1875.
For the week	41,500	46,306	43,688
Total since 1st Sept.	1,023,792	893,660	1,184,209

Spinning operations are now progressing rapidly, which, combined with buying for the local Mills, renders sellers very difficult to deal with. So far as can be seen at present a much larger stock is likely to be retained here over the monsoon than last year, but against this it must be remembered that we have no supplies of Comptas to look to for local consumption during and after the rains, so that for export purposes we question if there will be the same quantity available as there was last season.

The following are to-day's quotations for New Cotton with the equivalents in Sterling Cost and Freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without commission :—

SEEDS.—Linseed.—There has been a steady business doing throughout without change in price which we still quote at Rs. 6-9 per cwt. Supplies continue small. Rapeseed is likewise active but unchanged at Rs. 6-15 to Rs. 7 per cwt.

WHEAT.—Notwithstanding dull accounts from home the paucity of supplies maintains prices at a very high level. We quote :—White Rs. 39 to Rs. 39-8, Mixed Rs. 37 to Rs. 38, Red Rs. 34 to Rs. 34-8 per candy.

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS FOR THE BOMBAY GAZETTE.

THE WELD CASE.

SIMLA, MAY 26.

The Secretary of State has, we hear, upheld the orders of the Madras Government in the Weld case.

The first regular meeting of the Text-books Committee was held on Friday at Sir Clive [illegible]ley's house, when a resolution was passed that the powers of the Committee do not extend to University studies, as their charters vest all control in the hands of the respective syndicates.

MADRAS, MAY 27.

Lord Salisbury's decision in the Weld case has been received. After recapitulating the circumstances of the case Lord Salisbury remarks that the sanitary conditions put forward were exaggerated. A point for consideration is, whether Weld gave effect to his opinions on sanitary grounds in a proper conciliatory manner. Lord Salisbury does not think he did; he appears to have acted with great harshness, no attempt being made to induce the sons of the Sanyasi to render the grave impervious by using concrete, brick, or any other method. Exhumation of a body is always repugnant to the religious feelings of the natives, and in the present case Weld's order was addressed to the son of the deceased, who is held in high respect for wisdom and piety; and it was aggravated by a cruel threat that, if not removed by a certain date the corpse would be t[illegible]under the direction of Government and [illegible]thaway's Park, in which nightsoil is deposited. Thus acting, Weld failed in that watchful regard for the religious feelings of the people which the English Government has traditionally exhibited, and which is the most essential qualification in civil servants. Lord Salisbury approves the proceedings of the Duke of Buckingham's Council, concurs in the condemnation and comments on Mr. Thomas, the Collector of Tanjore. With respect to Weld the censure with which his conduct has been visited is probably sufficient to mark the views of the Madras Government and impress him with the necessity of greater caution in the application of sanitary principles. Under the circumstances the Duke of Buckingham's Council will probably be of opinion that the suspension of Weld from the exercise of magisterial functions need not be further continued.

THE distribution of the Order of Knighthood of the Indian Empire will not, we believe, take place on Her Majesty's birthday, as great care is being taken about the selection and the choice of individuals. Decorations will probably be distributed on the first anniversary of the Delhi Assemblage.

A GOOD many changes, we hear, are impending in the personnel of the Assam Commission. The vacancy caused by Colonel Bivar's departure goes to Bengal; but Colonel Campbell, Deputy Commissioner of Sibsagar, gets promotion from the 3rd grade to the 2nd grade of Deputy Commissioner; and Mr. Johnson, now supernumerary in the 3rd grade, comes on the regular strength of the grade. During Mr. Johnson's absence on furlough, Captain Boyd will act as Deputy Commissioner of Cachar in the 4th grade, Mr. A. C. Campbell getting the officiating 3rd grade. Captain W. J. Williamson officiates as Inspector-General of Police and Jails, and Mr. Damant, C.S., takes his place as Deputy Commissioner, Garo Hills. Mr. Matthews will be promoted to the 2nd grade of Assistant Commissioner, and his vacancy will be absorbed by Captain Trotter being permanently appointed to the 3rd grade.

THE Secretary of State, writing to the Governor General on the 26th ultimo, says, "I concur with your Excellency in the emphatic recognition you record of the value of Sir Richard Temple's labours."

MR. TAWNEY is appointed joint Secretary to the Text books Committee, Mr. Lethbridge retaining part of the work as joint Secretary.

THE Civil and Military Gazette.—"The trial of the Martini-Henri Rifles was, we are assured, most satisfactory, 40 rounds were fired by a company of 80 men—in a body; 30 rounds were fired independently, and 10 in volleys at a range of 400 yards, the target being 48 feet broad by 6 feet high. Out of 3,200 rounds fired 2,996 were hits. The men never having fired with the rifle before were naturally not so confident as they will be in future; and being unaccustomed to the breech action some of them did not manipulate the levers very expertly, but not a single rifle failed to extract the cartridge, and there was not a misfire. The much talked of excessive recoil proved to be the myth that all those acquainted with the subject knew it to be, not a man complaining of the "kick" though probably few of them had ever previously fired above half the number of rounds in one day with any rifle.

THE showers which were general throughout Bengal during the week ended the 19th May are supposed to have been the chota barsát. They have been generally beneficial, and the prospects of growing crops continue good, whilst the land is in excellent order for preparing for the winter crops. In the inundated districts of Dakkin Shabazpur a much larger area than usual has been sown with autumn rice, which will enable the people to replace their stores.

WE hear, says the Lahore paper, of stormy proceedings at the Murree Club, ending in the house Committee resigning in a body. The house Committee took action in a recent case of a servant striking that seems to have roused the ire of the juvenile members, the consequence being that the youngsters pulled themselves well together and pas-ed a vote by a majority of one, disapproving of the house Committee's action. We tremble for the fate of the glass and crockery: exuberant spirits are commendable, but they require toning down.

ST. PETERSBURG papers state, that M. Prejevalski is pushing on his explorations in the southern regions of Central Asia, and has discovered the ruins of two great cities near Lob-Nor.

NEWS from Abyssinia informs us, that Menelek, King of Shoa, has captured Gondar, one of the chief towns of Abyssinia. King Johannes in consequence is said to be very anxious to court the friendship of Egypt.

THE Lieutenant Governor of the Punjab, with Mr. Lepel Griffin, arrived at Simla on the 26th inst.

THE Ameer of Cabul has received official intimation of the recent change of the Lieutenant Governor of the Punjab. No other communication whatever has been sent to the Ameer.

THE Mahomedans of Shohagpore, a small station on the G. I. P. Railway line, and of Hoshungabad have subscribed among themselves Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 respectively to help the wounded Turks.

THE office of Government Advocate at Rangoon is again vacant. Mr. F. E. Cunningham, barrister-at-law, who succeeded Mr. Man the other day in that office, died, we regret to say, on the 19th instant.

PRIVILEGE leave for three months, granted to Mr. Shaw, Joint Commissioner Ladakh, is converted into six months special leave on private affairs. Col. Thuillier's reappointment to the Surveyor Generalship is gazetted.

THE Viceroy, we hear, telegraphed to the Secretary of State, informing him that there has been a general rainfall in the Madras Presidency, and that the prospects of the people have greatly improved. In different parts the tanks have received two to three months supply of water.

UNDER orders from the Commander-in-Chief, telegraphed from Ootacamund, Captain Pearson, of H. M.'s 43rd L. I. at Bellary, who was lately tried by Court Martial, has been released from arrest, and has resumed the command of his company.

A PRIVATE telegram states that Brown Prince, the horse that ran second for the Two Thousand Guineas, was born and trained in America, and that his owner, a well-known American sportsman, is sanguine of seeing him well to the front in the Derby.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the Englishman telling of a curious bet that was made on the forthcoming Derby a few days before the last mail left England. Five thousand pounds to fifty was taken that not an English-bred horse was placed for the race. At the quoted prices of Chamant, Strachino, Brown Prince, and Beaurepaire alone, the taker had the best of the betting.

THE Court Martial on the Commander of H. M. S. Lapwing, whose vessel was blown ashore in a squall, was held on board H. M. S. Audacious at Shangai, with Captain Buller, of H. M. S. Modeste, as President. At the termination of the enquiry, the Court severely reprimanded Commander Sir William Wiseman and the Navigating Lieutenant, and also reprimanded the gunner, whose watch it was at the time of the disaster.

OFFICIAL telegrams have been received at Shanghai from Japan, announcing definitely the relief of Kumamoto and the improved position of the Imperialist forces. The insurgents have thus sustained a somewhat serious reverse, the capture of Kumamoto being the object to which their energies have been chiefly directed from the commencement of the rebellion. The civil war, however, may be expected to continue with as much fury as ever. The strength of Saigo's forces is far from being exhausted, and several fresh battles were fought during the first week of April, resulting in heavy loss on both sides. The number of combatants killed in the war so far is said to be nine thousand, of whom two-thirds are Imperialists, so that their successes must have cost them dear.

THE Collector of North Arcot, in a letter to the Board of Revenue, dated 18th April, enclosed a copy of a letter of the Session Judge to the High Court in which he referred, for the confirmation of the High Court, the sentence of death passed upon one Muniyan. Muniyan deliberately murdered his wife by backing her with a sickle that he had specially made for the purpose, and attempted to commit several other murders on persons whom he supposed to be privy to his wife's infidelity. He was running about the streets of the town of Arcot in a state of frenzied excitement with the bloody weapon in his hands, intent on killing his mother-in-law and her sons. A number of police constables were present, but they all behaved in the most cowardly manner, and not one of them attempted to arrest the murderer. Varadarajulu Beddiar, tahsildar and 2nd-class Magistrate of Arcot, hearing of what had occurred, proceeded to the spot, boldly went up to Muniyan, and commanded him to lay down his sickle, and then prostrate himself at his feet. His courageous demeanour had such an effect on the man that he obeyed the order after very little demur, and was then arrested. This highly praiseworthy conduct of the Sub-Magistrate at a most critical moment undoubtedly saved the lives of several people whom the murderer in his desperate fury was about to put to death. The Session Judge has made favourable remarks regarding the meritorious conduct of the Sub-Magistrate on that most trying and difficult occasion: "It is very seldom that an instance of such indisputable courage has to be recorded on the part of one of our native officials, who, as a rule, are beyond measure cautious as to how they expose themselves to any risk of bodily injury that can by any possibility be avoided. I have, therefore, all the more pleasure in laying this matter before Government for their favourable notice. Varadarajulu Reddiar is one of my ablest and most useful tahsildars, and has always done his duty unobtrusively and most efficiently. On the present occasion, he merely desires that the Government may be pleased to record such an expression of their approbation of his conduct as they may deem appropriate and which he proposes to have entered in the usual register of his services. His request is a very modest and reasonable one, and I feel sure that the Government will be prepared to comply with it." The Government observe that the courage and firmness displayed by Varadarajulu well merit their praise.

IT is not much of a compliment to the sociability of Simla if not merely popularity but ordinary comfort depends upon those you associate with seeing you enter your jampan or mount your pony to depart. Yet, according to the delineator of the character of "spiritual wives" and the historian of dubious sexual moralities across the Atlantic, this is the fact. Mr. Dixon says: "To be in favour in either camp or court, you ought to be regarded as a visitor, not a resident. Even as a visitor, you must not intend to stay too long. A fixture is a bore. It is a clear advantage to your standing that the date of your departure shall be known. Things come to be judged in reference to that date. 'He will be gone by such a day, and there's an end of him,' snarl those who hate your shadow. 'He will be gone by such a day and be seen no more,' sigh those who love your company. All enmities are softened, all friendships fostered, by the fact that you are going away." Amiable sort of living, indeed, must be that in the Indian Capua during the season!

THE Statesman expresses his views of the discipline necessary to curb the ebullition or the bumptiousness of school-boys, especially Eurasian boys:—"The enquiry into the condition of St. Paul's School, Darjeeling, has, we are glad to see, resulted in the issue of a circular to parents of a most satisfactory and sensible character. The last two paras. of the report deserve to be quoted:—'That parents may be reassured that the somewhat stricter discipline now in force tends to the welfare of their sons, whose vague fear of expulsion hitherto reported have no further ground to rest upon. That parents be urged to loyally support the authority of the masters, in their responsible and difficult position, and by punctual payments to secure the financial stability of the school. One of the evils which, from all we can learn, most loudly calls for remedy in our Indian schools and colleges is juvenile bumptiousness and impatience of discipline. We have heard complaints sometimes from native colleges, but the evil appears to be greater in schools for Eurasian and Anglo-Indian children. It could easily enough be cured were the parents to do their duty, in fact in that case it could hardly exist. But parents and their brothers, like that Scottish person Dunbil, in Madras, whom Colonel Weldon taught a lesson the other day, do most of the mischief by feeding the silly conceit and encouraging the insolent airs of the boys. 'Thrash him well, he needs it,' used to be a common instruction from a parent to a schoolmaster in Scotland. We have little faith in the birch as an aid to instruction; but for driving evil spirits out of possessed urchins, it is often most effectual."

THE judicial vagaries of Mr. Pellew in his court at Howrah, may find a counterpart in the recent action of some courts in the South of India. A retired chaplain, the Rev. Alfred Fennell, communicates the particulars of two cases which are characterized by a gross and tyrannical administration of the law:—"I have just read in your issue of the 5th instant, the case of Mr. Moscrop of Messrs. Arbuthnot & Co., and the bailiff of the Small Cause Court at Madras, wherein, for the brushing away with his hand a warrant against a third party, officiously and rudely obtruded upon him by the said bailiff, Mr. Moscrop was fined Rs. 20. Let me bring to your impartial notice, and I trust it may meet the eyes of our respected Judicial Commissioner, as well as those of the Duke of Buckingham and Lord Lytton, how our Magistrate here, Major H. M. S. Magrath, has treated a respectable native in a case far more trivial but of far greater interest. He, Mr. Bastian D'Souza, my valued Native Superintendent, has to endure at Major Magrath's hands, not a fine of Rs. 20, but a sentence, now alas, I grieve to say, being carried out, of two months' rigorous imprisonment, which means to be dressed in prison clothes, his hair cut short, to be fed with prison food, to carry a bag of sand all day long under the hot sun in the prison court, and to endure the society of outcasts and felons—to become, if truth, honour and uprightness could ever be dishonoured, a dishonoured man My dear friend would far rather, if needs be, have endured a fine not of Rs. 20, but of Rs. 2,000—and this may be the reason, and I for one think so, that it has been inflicted. The story is not long. Marriage in India as at home oftentimes costs too much; and hence amongst the poorer classes when, on the death of a wife, a man takes another helpmeet, he too often does so without marriage. It was thus with a capital ironman but a sad tippler, and a sober hard-working washerwoman, who, for years, did our household work. But death and the hand in hand, parted off the man, in the prime of life, leaving nothing behind him but debts and a house, which the poor woman immediately resigned to his creditors, and went forth to fight the battle of life penniless, but encumbered with the maintenance of their little boy and the deceased's half blind sister. At this time I gave the woman a couple of rooms in the lines of the estate on which I ordinarily reside, and there, ever since, she has steadily done her work. Two men claiming hundreds of rupees as due to them by the deceased ironman, began early to plague her, who could barely feed and clothe her own household, for payment of the same. Once, when one of these fellows had stealthily managed to get her into the Sunbadar of Mercara's locks up, I appeared before that officer, and pleading that the woman was not and could not be liable for the deceased's debts, got her discharged, and I then gave her a rupee to buy a stamp paper to put in a record to that effect. It would appear, however, as though, instead of this, one of them, by name Paul, had inserted the woman's liability instead of non-liability and thus obtained her mark thereto. Taking advantage of my absence in Madras, Paul obtained a few weeks ago a distraint on her goods, and proceeded, with a peon, the ameen, acting patel, and other as to seize the same. Meanwhile my son and Mr. D'Souza, being at the house not far off, were called; and knowing the injustice that must have been exercised to obtain such a decree, but not knowing either the ameen or acting patel, as such, nor having been shown by the ameen his authority to enter my estate and act thus, the man not giving my son his name, though twice asked for the same—what wonder was it that a young man, being superintendent of the estate, should order the poor woman's few pots and chattees back into her house, and bid the intruders be off? Or, that Mr. D'Souza, in furtherance of the young master's orders should, with his foot, push the said utensils towards the door? But, who would believe it? For this, and this only, as was plainly stated in evidence, and the case of the poor woman explained, Major H. M. S. Magrath has sentenced this respectable native gentleman (for such he is in education and position, he has served me faithfully without fault or untruth, these five and twenty years)—for merely pushing with his foot these brass utensils, and in so doing only carrying out my son's directions—the warrant unshown—the officials unknown and thus appearing but trespassers on my property, Major Magrath has sentenced Mr. D'Souza to two months' rigorous imprisonment. There is but one feeling amongst Coorgs and natives, rich and poor, and I feel sure such will be even more the case with Europeans also when the case is known to them, one of indignation at such miscarriage of justice, such cruelty and abuse of office. The law having of course in view a real case of inexcusable opposition and violence, gives the Magistrate the option of inflicting six months' imprisonment or Rs. 1,000 fine, or both. But in a case like this, so light, so doubtful, so admitting of favourable construction to choose imprisonment instead of fine on such account, seems hard indeed."

HOMEWARD FROM BOMBAY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALEXANDRIA, APRIL 21.

I SEND you some remarks regarding the recent voyage from Bombay to Suez in the P. and O. steamer Mirzapore, which may be of some interest to those, like myself, fated to travel in the tropics in a crowded steamer conveying some 150 passengers of both sexes, and all ages, from the time-worn General to the musical infant in arms. On the afternoon of the 9th April, I proceeded to the Apollo Bunder, with a view to embarkation on the Mirzapore, and, in common with the other numerous passengers, had to pass a considerable time there, sitting out in the open, till the steamer arrived from Mazagon. The scene that there occurred baffles description. A rush was made for the several steam launches, those when filled raced for the Mirzapore, and on arrival commenced fighting for places, to the danger of all the passengers, and especially as regards the nervous and invalid portion. No official was present to preserve order, and had the sea been rough, an accident would probably have occurred. Might not the P. and O. make some better arrangement for shipping their passengers? The Mirzapore is large and fast, but was very much overcrowded, the four berth cabins being barely capable of finding room for three passengers. The attendance both in the cabins and saloon was very bad. The few stewards, though willing, were worked off their legs, and rendered but little assistance. The ventilation would have been good had not the port hatchway of the foresaloon been screened off as a cabin for ladies, thereby stopping a free current of air. A bad plan exists regarding the allotment of the cabins for married people,—I refer to those not in the saloon. They were scattered about among the single men's cabins, thereby causing a closing of all doors when dressing and increased heat. There was only one hot water bath, a necessity for many after a long residence in India. Why the seven other baths should not also have been fitted up with steam valves is difficult to comprehend. There was no consideration shown for smokers; they had to sit under a single awning and oh sin lights from the cook-house. A large dog, belonging to one of the passengers, was allowed to remain tied up on the quarter-deck all the voyage. I noticed that though the cabins of the captain and ship officers were fitted with punkahs, worked from the engine room, no such luxury existed in those of the passengers. The quarter-deck was almost entirely given up to the ladies and children, but not content with this, the former encroached on the smokers' ground, and the latter, accompanied by their ayahs and nurses, were permitted to wander, play and howl all over the ship. The food was good and plentiful, but owing to the paucity of stewards, the appetite was by no means satisfied, or the thirst quenched. The supply of fresh water ceased on arrival at Suez, though a rapid passage had been made. These and many other discomforts have to be endured by those selecting "family boats," and I have published them to warn intending travellers ere it be too late for the single man, and those without encumbrancies, the steamer that does not go through the Canal is the one to travel in.

VENICE, APRIL 28.

In continuation of my remarks on a voyage in the P. & O. steamer Mirzapore, allow me to offer you a few more regarding the corresponding trip from Alexandria to Venice in the Avoca. On leaving Bombay, we were informed that the Brindisi mail would be conveyed in the Pera from Alexandria, but on reaching that port we discovered that our steamer was the Avoca, one of the smallest of the P. & O. fleet. The 70 passengers were told off to berths at hap-hazard, several being accommodated with a shake down in what is called the post office,—anything but first class,—and I am told that complaints will be made on this point. Some local passengers in Alexandria were allotted saloon cabins in preference to the passengers booked through from Bombay, which was unjust. To make matters worse, directly on leaving Alexandria we came in for rough weather, and had to meet one of the famous north-westers of the Mediterranean. Few of the passengers escaped being very ill, and as in duty bound, the ladies immediately retired below to brood over their sorrows. What would have been the result of a larger steamer, I cannot say, but Mr. Editor when one pays the P. & O. a first class fare, he expects fi st class accommodation, and not to be st red away like a mail bag in the Post Office. The bad weather and head winds naturally resulted in a slow passage, and several passengers booked for Venice made themselves scarce at Brindisi. In conclusion I must pay a parting tribute to the Avoca. The little steamer behaved splendidly during the bad weather, and is a good sea boat. In smooth water, or with a fair wind, she can travel, and after an exciting race of some 60 hours, caught up one of the Austrian Lloyd's steamers that left Alexandria with about half-an-hour's start. The food was ample and excellent, and the way in which Captain Stead and his officers worked the ship, and mingled with the passengers, was appreciated by all.

SIMLA.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

MAY 19.

HIS EXCELLENCY the Governor-General is to hold his first levées on the 2nd proximo, the date on which Her Majesty's birthday will be kept. "Peterhoff" will be the place and 11 A. M. the hour, and "evening dress" will be the costume for those who cannot inaugurate in full dress uniforms, with all our civilization and the multiplicity of "cuts," "shapes" and "styles" which Poole and goose-board compatriots have inflicted on mankind. It appears that one can only be a "gentleman" by aping his butler's dress, and European skill seems inadequate for the conception of a dress coat suitable for morning wear on occasions like the present. If we cannot progress in this matter for goodness sake let us fall back to—well to the costumes of Henry VIII. or Charles II., or else wear dressing gowns—anything almost would be better than the absurd "swallowtails" of the time. The Viceroy is a sport; nobody doubts his imaginative powers, and surely his "reflective mind" must be shocked by the monkeyish forms which his courtiers assume when decked with tails. Can he not take Ramsay, Wakefield and Co. (people of "high" imaginative powers, the "Hyams" of Bond) into his confidence, and having borrowed their "q. b." devise a coat of nothing more, which will suit the need and hand the name of the designer down to posterity, as the most successful tailor of the day.

"Wars and rumours of wars" are the only subjects which seem to interest the people of India, or at least of Simla at the present time, and it is much to be desired that public opinion on the would divide itself as it is, our discussions are fearfully tame. A meets B. "Aha, how do," &c., "glorious news that telegram of to-day—if it's only true—Turks must win eventually." Oh, decidedly." In fact its Punch's old story realized.

Tom—"Say Bill, what d'ye think of the weather?"

Bill—"Why Tom, I think's as you think."

Tom—"Well, that's about what I was thinking mese'f."

In this edifying and satisfactory manner we discuss the impending fate of nations, and the general aspects of the conversational atmosphere is delightfully calmso much so that a day's argument may be summed up in the Municipal abb eviation nem. con., for we seem to have instinctively adopted a system under which "no dissentients" appear. That to agree is to be agreeable, is an assertion which I query, for although as I have told you we agree, we are not equally agreeable. When we agree it is with a provoking air of superiority, as if we wished the wight who presumes to repeat his crude ideas before us, would understand that he is only repeating truisms and "bringing coals to Newcastle." "Twilight,"—I mean governmental—seems to have finally departed from the hollowed hills of Simla, and everybody, including the barber, is in possession of "early and reliable information." I have not yet a single man—I might almost add woman or child—who is not in receipt of "confidential information" e Entres nous" or A., in a mysterious whisper, "The telegraph is open o Quettah." "Between ourselves," matters B. in an obscure manner, "The Quettah" telegram is completed. "Don't say I told you," entreats C. "You must regard this as quite private" expostulates D., and so on, through all the letters in the alphabet, from Alpha to Omega. "Twilight" is gone; but there is a purdah hanging between us and the full light of day, which we are only permitted to see as "through a glass, darkly." Probably this is better for us. Usual felt extremely nervous when he first emerged into broad daylight after his gloomy confinement, and we, like the Jews of Hamyar, might be struck blind and speechless at the sight of the glory we are so anxious to catch a g impse of.

The Madras Government, with a comical admixture of indignation and dignity, complained to the Secretary of State that Dr. Townsend had not reported himself to the rulers of the benighted when in compliance with an injunction from the Supan raj, he proceeded to honour the cocoa of Madras by inspecting their physical condition. Urged by the irrepressible Sir R. —, C. Bernard, Esq., C.S.I., has explained this unseemly conduct on the part of the "Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India," and the excuse is most pathetic, and shows how recklessly the lives of Her Majesty's servants are imperilled in this land of heat and brandy. Listen, I will a tale unfold, 'twill freeze the very marrow in your bones, were the the thermometer at 200° and odd. "The long railway journey from Calcutta to Sholapore in the heat had, however, brought on an attack of dysentery, and Dr. Townsend was unable to do as much as he wished." Can anybody say when is "sholapore in the heat?" I have a faint recollection of hearing about Sholapore in the "Decan, where "the heat" may be, I cannot say. But is not this "a crying shame"—this Indian atrocity —sending a man, and that man a Sanitary Commissioner, on such a perilous exploit. "The long railway journey from Calcutta to Sholapore." Surely Gladstone will take this subject up and ask the Secretary of State some questions on the subject. Was Dr. Tony? send unprovided with a nurse? Had he no medicine chest with him? Will he be made a knight or a baronet in consideration of his heroical encountering a second attack of the dire malady from which he suffered "in the cause of humanity?" Has he been sent "post paid" to Simla to recruit himself? How many decades will he get on full pay? Sir Richard Temple regrets much that Dr. Townsend could not wait upon his Grace. Query—Does Dr. Townsend regret it? If so, "why don't he expound himself?"

A DIFFERENT EXPERIENCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I am accustomed to travel over the G. I. P. Railway pretty frequently on business, and it has not been my experience to meet with the rudeness of which Colonel Rodon complains; on the contrary, I have always met with attention and courtesy from all grades of officials and servants. The Colonel's experience may, of course, have been the reverse of this; but some travellers, we all know, unreasonably expect the precise attention to their wants and wishes, when on the "move," to which they are accustomed in their own homes. I have no connection with the Railway, or with anybody employed upon it. I only testify what has been my invariable experience as a traveller, and I have thought it right to send you my testimony. Railway servants assume great responsibilities, and my observation has too often been that they get more kicks than ha'pence from the public.

THE OTHER SIDE.

BOMBAY.

A RECENT ALLEGED SCANDAL.—It was stated some days ago that a Parsee gentleman of Bombay had forwarded a written complaint to Sir Philip Wodehouse regarding certain alleged practices of Dr. Macnaughie, the medical gentleman in charge of the Sir Cowasjee Jehangir Ophthalmic Hospital. To enquire into the matter of the complaint, Sir Philip appointed a committee of medical gentlemen, who held several sittings in the Town Hall at which a number of witnesses were produced by the complainant. The committee, having concluded the enquiry, have, we learn, sent in their report to Government. They exonerate Dr. Macnaughie, but are of opinion that the apothecary is to blame; and they accordingly recommend that he should be removed to another post.

MR. ARTHUR CRAWFORD, our late Municipal Commissioner, who is at present Collector of Ratnagherry has been, we hear, for some days in Bombay on business connected with his office. For several years past, the zemindars of Ratnagherry have raised objections to the rate of cess levied by Government upon their lands; and Mr. Crawford has come down to Bombay with a view to make representations to the authorities in order to bring the dispute to a final settlement.

A SALUTE of fifteen guns will be fired from the saluting battery this evening, on the occasion of H. E. Rear Admiral Sir R. Macdonald, K. C. B. I., leaving for England.

THE Turkish Director General has telegraphed to the Government of India:—"Measures have already been taken to place the main line from Vallona to Pera and from Pera to Fao in efficient working order, and I am about to make other arrangements to improve the service via Turkey to the utmost. Meanwhile, Indian telegrams will have priority over ordinary messages."

RAIN.—We are glad to hear that rain fell at Ahmednuggur and its suburbs on Tuesday last.

HEROINES OF THE RINK.—The performance of the Misses Morgan on "wheels" upon the unyielding asphalte of the Ooty rink is quite a sight to see—says an enthusiastic admirer. Their movements are so very graceful and natural, and some of their figures are both wonderful and original. It is quite worth while going to look on for half an hour. The clever writer of the "Bombay Rink" omitted to tell us who were regarded as our heroines in these mazy perambulations.

THE BOMBAY DERBY SWEEP.—The Bombay English Derby sweep, which has been started this year, though unable to rival the long-established ones of Umballa, Murree, Simla, and other places, has received a large share of patronage, and a considerable number of tickets continue to be taken every day. The drawing will take place on the evening of the 29 h inst.

HOSPITAL FOR SICK WOMEN AND CHILDREN.—The resident Surgeon of St. John's Cottage Hospital, Baboola Tank Road, having left Bombay for England last week, the medical care of the Hospital has been kindly undertaken by Dr. Gerson da Cunha, M. R. C. S. The nursing, which is the special feature of this hospital, will continue the same as before. It appears from the annual report just published that no deaths have as yet occurred in the hospital, and the surgeon in his report says, "I feel sure that the care of our patients' sicknesses has in a great measure been due to careful nursing," whilst the lady superintendent says, "Our nurses have had many opportunities of showing their skill and patience, which have contributed materially to the recovery of the sick." It seems that the subscriptions in the past year did not quite cover the current expenses.

PROPOSED SCHOOL IN THE SINDH RAILWAY.—The agent of the Sind, Punjab, and Delhi Railway has appointed a committee to select a suitable house in the hills for the proposed home for children of the railway employés. It is likely that a large house at Mussoorie, with considerable ground attached to it, will be purchased.

THEFT OF VALUABLE JEWELLERY.—Mr. Cursetjee Shapoorjee Cama reported to the Police recently the theft of a pair of diamond earrings and a gold and pearl necklace, of the collective value of Rs. 3,000 or thereabouts, alleged to have been left by complainant's daughter on her dressing table, and to have been removed during her absence from the house. A Parsee servant in the employ of Mr Cama has been arrested on suspicion and further enquiries are in progress.

THE INDUS VALLEY RAILWAY.—The works on this railway are being pushed on with rapidity and vigour; and although the ensuing flood season will thwart their progress, it is said that the line from Multan to Khanpore, about 150 miles, will be covered with rails before the end of this month. The portion of the line from Multan to Chenniglote will be opened for traffic about the beginning of next month. It is asserted that the line from Multan to Sukkur (about 280 miles) will be completed for opening about the commencement of the cold season, with the exception of the Sutlej Bridge, below Bhawalpore.

HOUSE-BREAKING AND THEFT.—About four or five days ago, the iron treasury chest of the firm of Messrs. Morarjee Hurdess and Co., who have their godowns and place of business at Memon Mohla, was found to have been broken open and the cash extracted—a sum of Rs. 4 225 in currency notes and cash. It appears that some person or persons, during the night previous to the discovery, had entered the premises in some mysterious manner. The outer doors and windows of the house were found safely secured under lock and key, as they were left on the evening previous to the theft, and consequently suspicion rests that the servants of the firm were combined in this robbery, one of whom was in charge of the keys of the premises. The police arrested four of the servants, and further enquiries are being instituted into the matter.

S. P. C. A. PROSECUTIONS.—Several cases of cruelty to animals were successfully prosecuted by the S. P. C. A. on Saturday.

PARRICIDE.—A Goa paper reports the perpetration of a horrible deed at Britona by a son having flung a heavy stone at the head of his father. The skull was broken, and the man died instantaneously.

DEATH FROM SCORPION STING.—A young woman while cutting grass at Kodambacum was stung by a scorpion on her ring-finger. She immediately cried out holding her left hand with her right to silence. She perspired profusely, and was conveyed home. On their way a Hindoo selling sal-ish enquired as to what was the matter, and on being told that a scorpion had stung her he applied some medicine and made her lick the bitten part. The deceased after returning home complained of pain in her elbow and fingers; she however took her supper as usual, and went to bed. About 11 o'clock she was conveyed to Hospital, where she was attended, but she died an hour after admission.

GAMBLERS.—On Friday, Bomonjee Pestonjee and six others were charged before Mr. W. W-bb with gaming in a public place. They were all adjudged guilty; two of the prisoners were fined Rs. 25 each or in default to five weeks' rigorous imprisonment, and the rest Rs. 20 each, or in default to one month's rigorous imprisonment.

REFRACTORY SEAMEN.—Daniel Smith, Stephen Philips, Henry MacCarrol, and four other European seamen, were on Friday each sentenced by Mr. W. Webb to three weeks hard labour, the first three prisoners in the House of Correction and the other four in the Common Jail, for wilful disobedience in refusing to do duty on board the ship Benefactress, of which they were enrolled seamen. Daniel Flynch, a seaman of the s. s. City of Baltimore, was on Saturday sentenced to one week's hard labour in the House of Correction by Mr. W. Webb for wilful disobedience in refusing to do duty on board that ship.

A CLAIM ON THE S. S. ASIA.—Mr. Johnston, Postmaster of Masulipatam, was a passenger on board the steamer Asia which left that port on the 16th instant for Madras. This steamer was scarcely 300 miles from Masulipatam when she experienced a terrific storm. The commander of the steamer was ordered to have the steamer lightened, when it would appear that the third officer on board lashed a number of packages to casks and threw them overboard. Among the luggage thrown over were Mr. Johnston's packages, which are said to contain clothing and valuable jewellery to the ex ent of Rs. 1,500. Mr. Johnston has preferred a claim on the agents of the Company for compensation for the loss of his property.

CANINE THEFT.—A correspondent of the Rajputana News declares that as a frequent traveller on the Rajputana State Railway, he finds all the road-side stations infested with parish dogs. They appear in droves on the platform awaiting the arrival of the trains, and then dart into the compartments to seize whatever food may be on the seats of the carriages The traveller who makes this complaint says that there is no limit to the canine appetite, for not only do these dogs devour meat, bread, &c., but the towels, napkins, and paper that the articles are folded in! The correspondent says himself on a late occasion a witness to an instance of this extraordinary rapacity. He had left his tiffin basket on a waiting-room table "only for a min
